Welcome to Coventry Cathedral

A place like no other, Coventry Cathedral is one of the most important heritage and tourist destinations in the West Midlands, known throughout the world.

With a Grade I listed building, comprising of medieval ruins and a 1960s architectural masterpiece designed by Basil Spence, today, it acts as a vibrant and diverse, cultural and historical centre for the city.

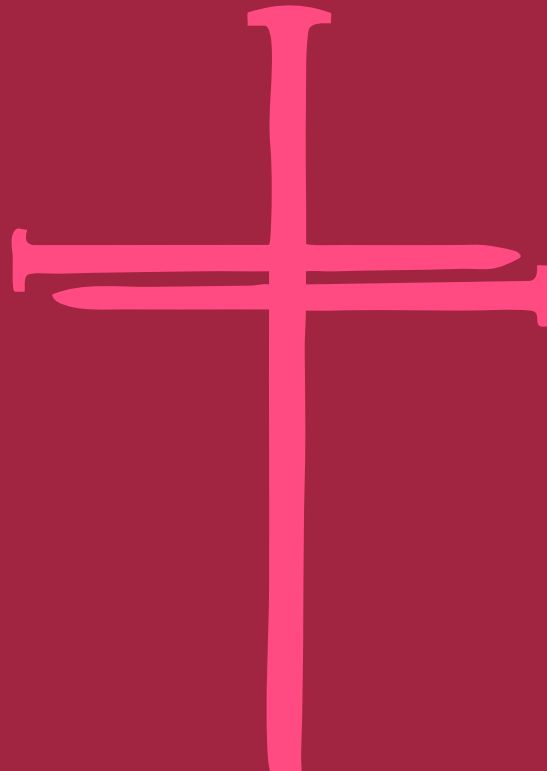

We are able to offer this amazing space for celebrations, launches and networking events which will leave lasting memories for you and your clients. With receptions in our iconic Ruins, gala dinners in the soaring space of the Nave, or training and conference venues around the building, we can offer flexible packages to suit all needs.

We look forward to welcoming you to Coventry Cathedral for a conversation about how we can add value to your event, and promote Coventry together.

By hosting an event at Coventry Cathedral you are also contributing to our vision of offering hospitality to all – a place where people gather in the heart of the city from many different backgrounds and beliefs, in line with the values of the Cathedral as a centre for Arts and Reconciliation.

We are proud to be open and welcoming to all people, and we hope to see you soon.

The New Cathedral

Consecrated in 1962, the New Cathedral was designed by Sir Basil Spence in a style that distinguishes it from traditionally medieval cathedrals.

Featuring Harrison & Harrison organ pipes either side of the chancel, a 26m high stained glass Baptistry window and West Screen for guests to enter under 66 glass etchings of angels and saints. The New Cathedral is the perfect location to inspire delegates.

The New Cathedral can be hired as a stand-alone space, or can be used a central conference space alongside other break-out spaces.

Creating a unique space that's adaptable and accessible for:

- ✚ Conferences
- ✚ Concerts
- ✚ Gala Dinners
- ✚ Award Ceremonies

The John Laing Centre

Built in 2022, as a new addition to the venue, it provides a multi- purpose and accessible space. Complete with a kitchenette, AV, and toilet facilities.

Spread across two rooms, the John Laing Centre is a private meeting space, perfect for meetings and team away days. The room can be hired on a stand-alone basis, a catering space, or breakout space.

Ideal for:

- ✚ Meetings
- ✚ Conferences
- ✚ Staff Training
- ✚ Film Screenings
- ✚ or a Green Room for your event in our Nave or Ruins

The Ruins

Originally St Michael's church, the building was constructed in the late 14th century and elevated to Coventry's Cathedral in 1918.

Following the bombing of the city in 1940, the walls, spire and crypts are all that remain of the Grade 1 listed building, creating a unique open air space.

Whether you're planning an intimate gathering or a large-scale celebration, the Ruins makes a stunning drinks reception before and after events.
